Mercer Absolute Return Fixed Income Fund

Mercer Absolute Return Fixed Income Fund B11-H-0.6300-EUR (IE00BF12WG95)
(the "Fund")

a sub-fund of MGI Funds plc

This Fund is managed by Mercer Global Investments Management Limited

OBJECTIVE AND INVESTMENT POLICY

The investment objective of the Fund is to achieve a positive total return.

The Fund will seek to achieve its objective by opportunistically accessing a variety of global return sources such as credit, government bonds, interest rates, currencies and emerging markets, taking both long and short positions which intend to deliver positive total returns over time.

The Fund may invest in investment grade securities and may also fully invest in below investment grade or "high yield" bonds and fixed income securities.

The Fund is actively managed and will seek to outperform cash by 1.5% - 2.5%, gross of the fees of the Manager, the Investment Manager and the Distributor, but net of all other fees and expenses, on average per annum over the medium to long term.

The Fund is in no way constrained by any benchmark and there is no guarantee the Fund will outperform cash.

Certain indices may also be used in the management of the Fund, including for investment purposes, as detailed in the Supplement.

The Fund may invest in loan instruments.

The Fund may not invest more than 50% of its Net Asset Value in emerging markets and no more than 20% in securities listed or traded on Russian exchanges.

In certain instances, the Fund may hold up to 20% of its assets in global equities and equity related securities listed on recognized markets but the Fund will not directly acquire such securities. The Investment Manager (or its delegate) may use a bottom up and/or top down (including analysis of quantitative and/or qualitative inputs) investment approach with a view to choosing securities which have higher potential for providing a return on investment.

The Fund may achieve exposure to China by investing in eligible bonds traded on the China Interbank Bond Market through Bond Connect and/or the QFII/RQFII regime.

The Fund may invest up to 10% of its Net Asset Value in contingent convertibles (bonds which may be converted into equity or be forced to suffer a write down of principal upon the occurrence of a pre-determined event).

The Fund may use financial derivative instruments extensively for hedging and / or efficient management and / or investment purposes (instruments for which the price is dependent on one or more underlying asset, 'FDI'). FDI may enable the Fund to obtain market exposure in excess of the value of the Fund's assets.

The Fund will not distribute dividends. Income and capital gains from the Fund are reinvested.

You can buy and sell shares in the Fund on demand each day which is a bank business day in Ireland or the United Kingdom.

Recommendation: Investment in the Fund should be viewed as medium to long term.

RISK AND REWARD PROFILE

Lower risk

Higher risk

Potentially lower reward

Potentially higher reward

The risk and reward indicator value is calculated using historical data and may not be a reliable indicator of the Fund's future risk profile.

The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time.

The lowest category, 1, does not mean risk free.

The value of investments and income from them can go down as well as up and you may not get back the full amount you invested.

The Fund is rated 4 due to the nature of its investments which include the risks listed below:

Liquidity risk: Lower liquidity means there are insufficient buyers or sellers to allow the Fund to sell or buy investments readily.

Fixed income: Investing in fixed income securities offers the chance to gain returns through growing capital and generating income. However, there is a risk that the institution that issues the security could fail to pay out on the bond, causing the Fund to lose its initial investment and expected income from the security.

Fixed income values are likely to fall if interest rates rise. If interest rates change considerably, as bonds mature, there is no guarantee that bonds of a similar type and yield will be available to replace them.

Sovereign debt: Investment in sovereign debt securities might involve special risks. The issuer of the debt or the governmental authority that controls the repayment of the debt might be unable or unwilling to repay principal or interest when due. Economic uncertainty might increase the volatility of market prices of sovereign debt.

Credit risk: The risk that an organisation does not pay out on a bond or other trade or transaction when it is supposed to.

Investments in below investment grade securities: Lower rated or unrated securities are generally subject to a greater default risk than such higher rated securities.

Emerging markets: Emerging markets or less developed countries may face more political, economic or structural challenges than developed countries do. This means your money is at greater risk if it is invested in emerging markets.

Financial derivative instruments (FDIs): The use of FDIs is highly specialised. FDIs are used to increase, lower or maintain the risk level of the Fund. The loss on FDIs may exceed the amount invested and may have a negative effect on your investment. Risks associated with FDIs include the risk that the other party with which the Fund enters into an FDI will not meet its payment obligations.

Counterparty risk: The insolvency of any institutions providing services such as safekeeping of assets or acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, may expose the Fund to financial loss.

Operational risk: All funds are subject to the risk that something could go wrong in the day-to-day running of an organisation.

Hedged Share Classes: In the case of hedged share classes, the investment manager will seek to hedge the relevant class currency against any investments held in the Fund's Benchmark which are denominated in a currency other than the class currency. This hedging may not be successful, so changes in exchange rates may cause the value of investments to decrease or increase.

For more information on risks please refer to the "Special Considerations and Risk Factors" section in the prospectus and in the supplement for the Fund.
